

PARTY LEADERS ASK BALLINGER TO QUIT

PARTY SUCCESS DEMANDS ACTION

Murray Crane Puts It Up to Secretary at Minneapolis with the Taft O. K.

PRESIDENT WAS RELUCTANT

He Disliked to Be So Rude to Friend Ballinger, but Party's Future Demanded It

BEVERLY, Mass., Aug. 2.—Senator Winthrop Murray Crane of Massachusetts, met Secretary of the Interior Ballinger at Minneapolis yesterday and acting on the initiative of leaders in the republican party with the tacit acquiescence of President Taft suggested that the cabinet officer tender his resignation before October 1. From a source of the highest authority here today comes this explanation of the "accidental" meeting of the Massachusetts senator and the secretary of the interior yesterday.

Senator Crane, several days ago, made a mysterious visit to Beverly. At that time the news was that he was going west "on a mission," the nature of which was kept secret.

Pressure on Taft

Great pressure of late has been brought to bear on President Taft to him to the head of the department that he should retire. On the ground of extreme political expediency, leaders in the party got together, selected Senator Crane as their spokesman, secured a tacit acquiescence from President Taft and yesterday the Massachusetts senator put the proposition to Secretary Ballinger.

Senator Crane, according to authoritative information, told Ballinger yesterday that he must step down within a few weeks after the report of the congressional investigation is made public.

The committee meets at Minneapolis during the week of September 11. Its verdict on the conservation controversy exonerating the secretary will be given to the public almost immediately. Ballinger is expected to retire to his law practice at Seattle, immediately after this examination at some time prior to the windup of the congressional campaign.

Taft Soft Hearted

President Taft has felt a peculiar delicacy about informing Ballinger of the tremendous pressure brought to bear upon him to change the present regime at the interior department and the plan of having the proposition put to Ballinger by party leaders was the outcome of much thought on the part of the president's political advisers.

At the executive offices today no information was vouchsafed in regard to the matter; it was stated that Sen. Crane had no appointment with the president. The senator is one of the few for whom the latch string on the Taft cottage always hangs out, and he is in the habit of dropping in very often.

SETTLEMENT NEAR IN RAILWAY STRIKE

Grand Trunk Troubles May Be Determined by Arbitration, Says the Report

CONFERENCE IS HELD TODAY

Both Sides Practically Agree to Have Questions Left to Dominion Government

MONTREAL, Que., Aug. 2.—What is believed to be a settlement of the Grand Trunk strike, was effected today after a final conference between Messrs. Lee and Garretson and President Hayes. It was announced that the matter of arbitration had been left to the dominion government. The decision will be wired to Montreal and it is believed another conference between the road and men will be held today, when the matter will be finally settled.

President Hayes admitted after this morning's conference that it was probable the questions in dispute would be submitted to arbitration but again denied the statement made by a minor official last night that a settlement had been reached.

He said both sides had practically agreed to arbitrate provided a plan could be formulated which would meet the approval of both.

TO MAKE CLEAR WAGE CONDITIONS

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 2.—Determined that Illinois coal miners shall understand clearly the terms of the wage compromise approved by the international executive board, President Tom T. Lewis tonight will mail to every miner in the state, a four-page circular in which he fully asserts that Illinois officials deceived and misled the men. Following this campaign of education, Lewis will urge again a settlement of the strike.

Discussing his printed statement, Mr. Lewis today declares that the compromise rejected by the miners provided for the wage advances demanded by the Cincinnati special convention. It protects shot fliers and empowers district officials to adjust disputes between shot fliers and miners. He says the agreement does not propose to take from district officials the right to settle grievances of these men over their employment.

MURDER SUSPECTS ARE TURNED FREE

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Aug. 2.—Claude S. Sims, Lulu and Jessie Metz, the three suspects arrested in connection with the death of James A. Watson of this city, believed to have been poisoned and robbed of over $2,000, have been released by the authorities. This action was taken when the coroner's jury finished its work early this morning. The sensation of the day aside from this was the report of Dr. O. Rose, who reported he found large quantities of strychnine in Judge Watson's stomach, enough in fact to kill several men.

Today the authorities are working in another direction and further sensations are expected in the murder mystery.

FIVE MILLIONS DAMAGE BY FIRE

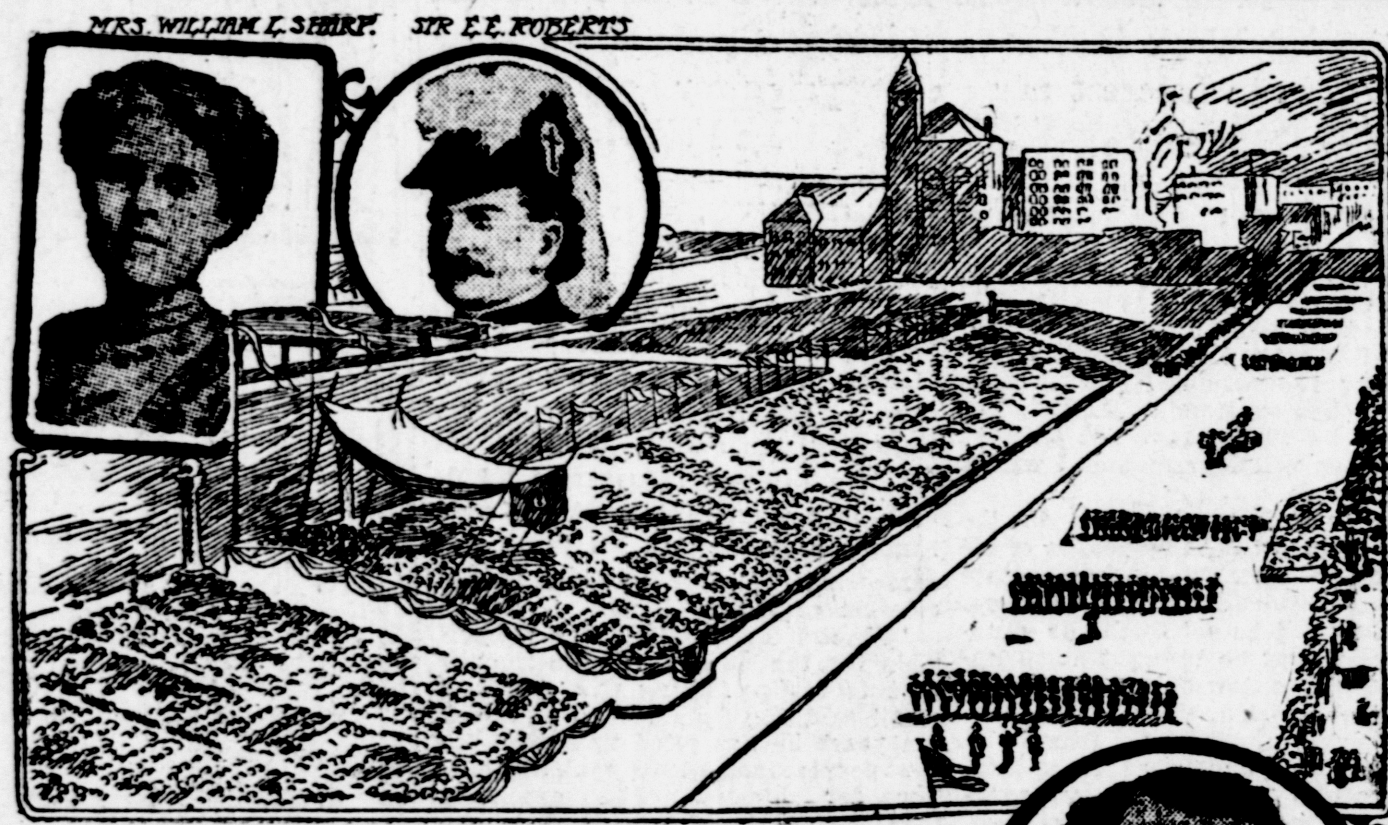

BUTTE, Mont., Aug. 2.—Five million dollars damage has already been done by two forest fires, one in Montana and one in Idaho and even greater loss is still threatened, according to the chief of the United States forestry service of this district today. The situation is so serious that an emergency call for volunteers sent out yesterday was followed by another call today and 500 fire fighters from Butte and Anaconda are on their way to the scene in special trains.

The two fire stricken districts are the Pine Creek district near Couer d'Alene, Idaho, and the Missoula district, in Montana.

STRIKERS DESTROY RAILWAY PROPERTY

WINNIPEG, Man., Aug. 2.—A mob of rioters led by striking employees of the Canadian Northern railway, today stoned the enclosure of the company's shops where strike-breakers are boarded. The stoning followed a clash between the strikers and the company's police. Thirty freight and passenger cars were set on fire and destroyed in another part of the yard. Several arrests have been made.

GREAT PREPARATIONS BEING MADE BY KNIGHTS TEMPLAR

Eminent Sir E. E. Roberts, chairman of the reviewing stand committee, has provided an unique feature for this conclave. An immense stand, located in Grand Park, on Michigan boulevard, will be constructed from which 50,000 women will review the parade. PORTUGUESE MAY CAST OFF CHURCH

Peremptory Action of Pope Resented; Pontiff Hopes to Subdue Anti-Clericals in Spain

LISBON, Aug. 2.—Indications today are that Portugal will soon follow the example of Spain in severing diplomatic relations with the vatican and will inaugurate an active campaign to divorce state affairs from domination by the Catholic church.

The local tension culminated recently when the pope, disapproving of the tone of the Portuguese-Francisco paper, the Voice of St. Anthony, directed Cardinal Merry del Val to order the bishop of Braga to suppress the journal. The paper suspended publication.

The Portuguese government promptly issued a royal decree strongly censuring the whole proceeding on the ground that the vatican had infringed upon the royal prerogative by failing to submit the papal order to the king for approval. It is significant that the pope since this incident has rejected, in succession, the Portuguese government's nomination of two distinguished politicians as successors to the late Senor Antas, ambassador to the vatican.

Pope is Obdurate

ROME, Aug. 2.—In the hope that King Alfonso of Spain will eventually be forced by public opinion to dismiss Premier Canalejas and appoint a pro-clerical to the post, the pope is semi-officially reported today to be turning a deaf ear to the appeals of a majority of the cardinals for a less antagonistic course toward the Spanish government.

The pope is believed by many to be much under the influence of incautious advisers and he is being urged to make sweeping changes in his official family. There are no indications, however, of Pius' yielding.

Anti-Clericals to Win

Dispatches from Madrid say the overthrow of the anti-clericals is impossible at the present time though there is the strongest prospect that they will win only after a bitter fight. The Carlists and independent clericals have formed an alliance and today they sent the following warning to Canalejas:

"We are determined to use every means to effect your overthrow without regard for the consequences. While this threat breathes the spirit of civil war it is known the vatican officials have received private advice from Spain that the clericals even though supported by a large part of the people are in no position to engage in a war with the government. These dispatches have said plainly that Alfonso's position has been greatly strengthened by the events of the last few days.

EXPECT CONFESSION FROM JANITOR

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 2.—Joseph Wendling, the Louisville janitor arrested here in connection with the murder of Anna Kellner of Louisville left here for Louisville today in the custody of Captain Carney of the Louisville police. The couple will reach Louisville by next Monday morning.

When he boarded the train Captain Carney expressed confidence that Wendling would make a statement telling what he knows about the Kellner case, though Wendling thus far has maintained that he is innocent.

TAXABLE MILLIONS UNCOVERED TODAY

Big Packers and Other Rich Chicagoans Must Disgorge Fifteen Millions

CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—Chicago millionaires and especially the men at the head of the big packing concerns were given a rude shock today when they learned that figures of their actual wealth had been given to the board of review with the statement that they had been evading taxation on $200,000,000 of stock in foreign corporations.

Frank W. Jones, president of the Illinois Tax Reform League, is making the charge and he gives the names of the companies in which they hold stock, the amount of the securities and the par value of the same. According to Jones these men owe the county at least $15,000,000 in back taxes.

Altogether there are seventy men named by Jones with J. Ogden Armour and Edward Morris of the packing interests, heading the list. Jones gave warning that he would file mandamus proceedings to compel the board of review to assess the stock held by these men.

Armour Concealed $32,000,000

First on the list is J. Ogden Armour, head of the big packing company bearing his name. Jones gives a list of stocks amounting to $42,000,000 which he says Armour owns and which the assessors have overlooked. Then comes Edward Morris of Morris and Co., packing concern, with $9,919,700 and Arthur Meeker, president of the Armour company with $5,970,000. Meeker is assessed but $20,000 but Jones says the assessors overlooked $5,129,000. E. F. Swift, vice president of Swift and Co. was not assessed on $5,036,000 in stocks which he is said to possess.

FEAR AN ATTEMPT TO KILL ALPHONSO

PARIS, Aug. 2.—Prefect of Police Lepine is today making every precaution to guard King Alfonso and Queen Victoria when they arrive here tonight and during their stay in Paris, enroute for a visit in England.

Paris is alive with Spanish refugees who were turned back from their intended invasion of Spain on last Friday by an unexpected show of military strength. It is feared that some of these may attempt the life of Alfonso and he and his queen will be literally surrounded by police and soldiers during every hour of their stay in Paris.

The railway station will be cleared on the arrival and departure of Alfonso.

OUT OF WORK: KILLS THREE

DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 2.—Despondent because he could not secure employment, Wm. Masters, 23, shot and killed his wife and mother-in-law and then ended his own life. The bodies were found in the Masters' home today.

MADRIZ READY TO RUN

BLUEFIELDS, Nic., Aug. 2.—The Estrada forces in Nicaragua are rapidly nearing Managua and President Madriz is preparing to desert the capital, according to the messages received today from San Juan del Sur.

STANDPATTERS IN SECRET MEETING

Iowa Tafters Are in Minority, but Hope to "Bull" Through Endorsement of President Taft

DES MOINES, Iowa, Aug. 2.—Delegates to the republican convention here tomorrow are talking of little but the platform today by the selection of George M. Curtis of Clinton, as a member of that committee. Progressives say the Taft administration will be endorsed for its "good intentions" only and the insurgent leaders, Senators Cummins, Dolliver and the congressmen will be endorsed for their fight in congress for progressive measures. The liquor question may be ignored although it is a big issue in the democratic platform.

Although Gov. B. F. Carroll is under indictment from criminal libel, the state administration will probably be endorsed without the use of names.

The standpatters organized at a secret meeting today over which former Governor Frank D. Jackson presided. Speeches were made by former Congressman Lacey of Oskaloosa and Col. Peter Hepburn.

A steering committee of nine was named to lead the fight on the floor for the minority report of the resolutions committee which endorse Taft and his administration and the Payne-Aldrich tariff.

Big Vote in Kansas

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 2.—Despite heavy rains, almost a cloud-burst in some sections of the state, indications are that the heaviest vote in the history of Kansas will be polled today at the primary elections. "Insurgency vs. standpatism" is the only question in the contest, while it is the popular belief that Governor Stubbs, insurgent, will be renominated, his own supporters are not claiming an overwhelming victory.

Disfranchisement for Blacks

GUTHRIE, Okla., Aug. 2.—When the polls opened today for the state primaries the chief interest centered in the vote on the "grandfather clause" amendment to the state constitution for the disfranchisement of the negroes.

J. A. Harris, chairman of the state republican committee, claims the measure will be defeated.

Indications are that J. W. McNeil will be nominated for governor by the republicans.

Small Missouri Vote

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 2.—The primary election in Missouri today is progressing very quietly with but a very small vote being polled.

All of Missouri's republican congressmen are "regulars." The contests are in the Second, Fifth, Fourteenth and Fifteenth districts, with Congressman Crow, in the Fourteenth, having the hardest fight. D. W. Hill is opposing him on an insurgent platform. Congressman Barthold has no opposition.

ASK ALICE TO QUIT CIGARETTES

FAIRBURY, Neb., Aug. 2.—At a union meeting of the four Christian Endeavor societies of this town, it was unanimously voted to write an open letter to Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, daughter of ex-President Roosevelt, asking her to quit the cigarette habit because of the evil influence it was bound to have on the youth of the country.

EXPECT GIRL TO TELL ON CRIPPEN

Kind Treatment and Pleading of Her Father Impress Typist Taken with Murderer

"THIRD DEGREE" IS TABOOED

But Canadian Police Think Miss Leneve will Break Down and Tell How Crime was Done

GIRL INNOCENT

QUEBEC, Aug. 2.—After a further examination of Miss Ethel Clare Leneve by Magistrate Angers and a practical third degree of the girl by Inspector Dew, the latter late this afternoon declared in his estimation the girl is perfectly innocent of any connection with the murder of Belle Elmore, wife of Dr. Crippen, for which she and Crippen are under arrest.

QUEBEC, Aug. 2.—That Miss Ethel Clare Leneve will be the chief witness for the crown against Dr. H. H. Crippen for the murder of Belle Elmore, his wife, when the American dentist is placed on trial in London, is the growing conviction of those who have watched the recent developments in the case.

Use Kindness

The police are today using every means at hand to have the girl break down and tell her story of the murder and the flight across the sea. While the police do not believe Miss Leneve had an actual hand in the murder of Mrs. Crippen, they do believe she is in possession of the details of the crime.

Instead of keeping her a prisoner in solitary confinement in a dingy cell in the parliament prison, Miss Leneve is being treated as a guest in the home of Police Chief McCarthy. She has a room to herself and is practically free from surveillance though she could hardly make her escape. The considerate treatment she is receiving from the police has made a great impression on her, it is understood, and it would not be surprising to see her taking the stand against Crippen, both at the London inquest and at the subsequent trial. Cable messages from her father, urging her to tell all, are said to have influenced the girl greatly.

Crippen still is being kept in a cell and no one is allowed to talk to him.

May Tell Story

The Leneve girl was taken from the home of Chief of Police McCarthy where she had been placed because of her weakened physical condition before Magistrate Angers who subjected her to a lengthy examination as to her trip and her willingness to return.

She was ready to go back any time. An examination of the Leneve girl and Dew's constant interviews with her have led to the general belief that the inspector has prevailed upon her to tell the authorities all she knows of Crippen's movements.

After Angers had dismissed the girl she was closeted with Dew for over an hour and he thrashed out the entire case with her. When he concluded his examination of the girl, he said: "I think that Ethel Leneve was merely a foolish girl, but that she is absolutely innocent of any connection with the murder of Mrs. Crippen. I believe that she did not even know that Mrs. Crippen was dead until after she left London with Crippen and will probably not be valuable even as a witness."

Crippen's physical condition was so far improved this afternoon that she was taken back to her little cell in the jail.

Crippen has been in his cell all day amusing himself with a number of books, furnished by the authorities. He reads voraciously and today exhausted his supply of reading matter and sent out a request for more. The corridors of the jail are crowded with visitors anxious for a glimpse of Crippen and Miss Leneve, but the authorities have issued positive orders that no one is to be admitted to either cell.

Relatives to Testify

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 2.—Mrs. Robert Mills of Newport, half sister to the murdered wife of Dr. H. H. Crippen, is today preparing to leave for London to testify against the dentist when he is returned from Quebec.

Mrs. Mills stated today that she and her sister, Mrs. Hunn, of Brooklyn have been requested by Scotland Yard to return to England to help establish the case against Dr. Crippen. Mrs. Mills may also go to Canada.

Crippen's Father Dying

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 2.—A feeble, broken down old man, M. A. Crippen, father of Dr. Harvey Hawley Crippen, under arrest with Ethel Clare Leneve at Quebec for the murder of his wife in London, is today gradually declining, worried by the situation of his son.

The physicians fear that brooding over his son's arrest will cause a complete breakdown that may end (Continued on Page Six)

WEDS LOCAL GIRL ON HIS DEATHBED

Marvin Lynn's Last Wish Is to Become Husband of Miss Bertha Husse

MARRIED AT THE HOSPITAL

Former Bookkeeper for C. L. Colman Lumber Company Dies at Rochester of Appendicitis

After being informed by the surgeons at the Mayo hospital at Rochester, Minn., that he could not recover from an operation for appendicitis, Marvin Lynn, for six years bookkeeper for the C. L. Colman Lumber company in this city, requested that he be permitted to wed Miss Bertha Husse of this city, and the ceremony was performed at the young man's deathbed Sunday morning at 9 o'clock and last night at 11:30 o'clock he passed away, his bride and his parents being at his bedside. The body passed through this city at noon today on the way to Nekoosa, Wis., where the funeral will be held.

Decedent left here June 1 to spend the summer with his parents at Nekoosa. Last Thursday he was taken suddenly ill with appendicitis and it was found that an immediate operation was necessary. He was hurried to the Mayo hospital at Rochester, where an operation was performed but it soon developed that the young man could not live. Sunday night another operation was performed in an effort to save his life but it was too late.

Decedent had been engaged to be married to Miss Husse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christ Husse of 1607 South Ninth street. Last Saturday night Miss Husse received word that the young man was doing nicely and she left the same night to spend Sunday with him. Upon arrival at the hospital she was informed that a sudden change for the worst had taken place and that there was no hope. After he was so informed by the doctors he said his last wish was that he could marry the girl he loved and the ceremony took place immediately. He then made all funeral arrangements, requesting that his body be taken to his home at Nekoosa for interment. Decedent was 26 years of age and Miss Husse is 22.

Besides his wife and parents decedent is survived by three sisters and two brothers, Mrs. A. D. White, Stevens Point, Wis.; Charlotte Lynn Campbell and Edith M. Lynn, Nekoosa and Benjamin L. Lynn of Pittsville, Wis., and Walter Lynn of Nekoosa, Wis.

NOTED PRISONER GRANTED PAROLE

STILLWATER, Minn., Aug. 2.—The state board of control, in session here today, authorized paroles for Charles Price, known as "Sinbad," the sailor, and Simon Sockness, also a murder prisoner. Action was taken in accordance with the commutation of sentences granted by the state board of pardons several weeks ago.

John Sherwood, a paroled convict, has been returned to prison to serve the remainder of his sentence. He has been working for a dairyman near town and in a dispute last night over a settlement, used a stone wrapped in a handkerchief, on his former employer and stretched him unconscious. Sherwood declares he struck in self-defense.

DEMOCRATS FILE JOHN LIND'S NAME

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 2.—John Lind's name will be presented to Secretary of State Schmah for filing as the democratic candidate for governor, and it will be filed.

The certificate, signed by the chairman and the secretary of the convention which met last Thursday will be sent to the secretary's office within a day or two. Mr. Schmah will at once appeal to Attorney General Simpson for an opinion, and it is believed that this opinion will favor accepting the filing.

Not that the democrats hope to gain anything by this action. They have practically all admitted that Lind is not to be the candidate, but the filing will be made simply in compliance with the law and will have nothing to do with the name which will head the democrats in the ballot next fall.

Carrie Nation Decorates
Beer Manufacturer with the Sign of the Hatchet

What would have had happened had Carrie Nation known that that she was being driven about the streets of St. Cloud, Minn., during her lectures against the liquor traffic there, by John R. Cornell, vice president of the Preis & Wimmer Brewing company, is hard to state. Maybe she would have landed the hatchet on the head of the brewer or started on one of her little rampages against the dispensaries of the liquor refreshments—but at any rate she didn't discover it.

When Carrie arrived at St. Cloud the reception committee was lacking—likewise the band and carriages due to mark her entrance into the city. Worse than that there wasn't even a carriage that she could hire to take her to the park where the lecture was scheduled to be pulled off.

Mr. Cornell, seeing her predicament, offered the services of his carriage which Carrie readily accepted. The start for the ground was made and when Mr. Cornell started to light up a cigar, Mrs. Nation said to him: "I wish you would give me that cigar."

"Certainly," said Cornell, handing over the Havana.

"Now I am going to bless you with this cigar," said Carrie, and suiting her action to words, she crushed the smoke stick under her heel and then produced one of her big hatchets and decorated Cornell.

On arriving at the park a large crowd gathered around. Mrs. Nation found it impossible to get through the throng with her grip. Cornell was on the job and escorted her to the platform. When the crowd saw the brewer with a big gold hatchet on his breast walking at the side of Carrie, they could hardly believe their eyes but in a minute or two they caught on and the cheering that followed made Mrs. Nation believe she was getting a real live reception.

NEWS OF WISCONSIN

KANSAS SENATOR TO ENTER STATE

Joseph L. Bristow will Spend a Week in Wisconsin in Interest of
La Follette

MADISON, Wis., Aug. 2.—Senator Joseph L. Bristow of Kansas, one of the most influential insurgents in congress, will spend a week in Wisconsin next week to speak in support of Senator La Follette's candidacy for re-election. He will begin his speeches on Monday, Aug. 8. The cities to be visited have not all been chosen but will be announced within a day or two.

Senator Bristow is much in the public eye at present by reason of his red hot speeches in his home state on the conditions in the last congress. So plainly did he set forth the situation there that a few days ago, the fire of Senator Aldrich, who accused Bristow of lying about him. Bristow is the man who uncovered the postal frauds while in the attorney general's department several years ago. For this work he became a fast friend of President Roosevelt.

It was also announced here today that H. W. Byers, the militant attorney general of Iowa, will also come into this state this month to take the stump for La Follette. Byers will probably come the second week in August. His itinerary is now being arranged by the La Follette managers.

Attorney General Byers is the official who led the reform movement against the saloons and dives in the Hawkeye state. Recently he was defeated for the congressional nomination by Walter I. Smith, a Cannonite in congress.

The next few days will witness the beginning of the oratorical artillery in this state in the interests of the senior senator. The time and place of Senator La Follette's first speech are still held in abeyance, but it is generally understood he will speak first in Milwaukee.

DR. C. A. HARPER FOR THE ASSEMBLY

MADISON, Wis., Aug. 2.—Dr. C. A. Harper, secretary of the state board of health and one of the most prominent and popular physicians of Madison, last night announced his candidacy for the assembly for the First district of Dane county. He is the candidate of the Progressive republicans, and will oppose Dr. Frank Smith, a retired dentist, who is closely allied with Stephenson-Connor organization. In the candidacy of Dr. Harper the republicans are conceded to have perhaps the strongest man that could be put up for the legislature.

LINDSEY SPEAKS AT DARLINGTON

Denver Juvenile Court
Judge Opens the Campaign for Senator
La Follette

DARLINGTON, Wis., Aug. 2.—National significance was given to the Wisconsin senatorial campaign yesterday when Judge Ben B. Lindsey, the famous juvenile judge of Denver, Colo., spoke here in advocacy of the return of Senator La Follette to the senate. Judge Lindsey is a democrat; Senator La Follette is a republican. Yet Judge Lindsey steps outside his party and comes into Wisconsin to aid in the election of a republican.

"Senator La Follette was responsible for the nation-wide insurgency that is distinguishing this day and age," said the judge. "In the past ten years he has piled up service for the people instead of making millions for himself. The gratitude that the people of this country owe Senator La Follette is more than all its gratitude for all the philanthropy of Carnegie and Rockefeller. The vastly improved standards of public service in congress are largely due to the work of Senator La Follette."

"To him also is due the credit for the fight against graft in so many states of the union. During the past ten years he has recognized and fought the Beast wherever found. He has not compromised with the Beast but has fearlessly attacked it from his various positions in public life. I have come here to aid if I can in the election of Senator La Follette because I believe it would be a national calamity should he fail to be returned to the senate. You must ever be alert against the special interests which in this case are seeking to retire him from public life."

Judge Lindsey warned his hearers not to be diverted from the main issue of the campaign. The interests, he said, are trying to inject subsidiary issues into it in the effort to mislead the people from the main objective which he said was the question of whether Senator La Follette should be endorsed for his record in congress and be returned there.

As a democrat he urged every democrat to vote for an insurgent for congress, declaring that a good democrat had no business opposing an insurgent for congress. In marking an insurgent for slaughter by putting up a popular democrat to oppose him, was, said Judge Lindsey, only a trick of the special interests, and he wanted the people to grasp the meaning of such schemes and then to vote for the insurgent.

PREFERS STREET TO "DOWNY GOT"

John McDonald, Once Prominent, "Afraid to Go Home in the Dark"

Now

John McDonald, once prominent resident of La Crosse, is now "afraid to go home in the dark," and rather than face a storm in his domestic circle, slept in the street with the result that this morning he was haled into county court on a charge of being a common drunkard.

When arraigned in court, McDonald admitted having been found sleeping in the open air and as a defense claimed that he was afraid to go home in the dark. He denied the charge of being a common drunkard, and his trial will be held Friday afternoon.

The case of McDonald according to County Judge John Brindley, illustrates the easy sledding encountered when a man, once "hits the boggan."

A few years ago McDonald was as clean and straight a man as there was in the city. I knew him well and he was liked everywhere. He left La Crosse, got to drinking, and this is the result," said the judge.

LET'S HAVE THE LIGHTS

The matter of up-to-date street lighting for the business district will come before the city council at its next meeting. The expense involved is inconsequential when compared with the benefits to be gained. The Merchants' association has taken a progressive stand in relation to the subject and the Tribune believes the aldermen should meet them half way and pass the desired ordinance. We are now lighting our downtown streets in an old fashioned way. The modern way is immensely better and costs little more. It is the aggregation of these up-to-the-times items that makes the progressive and growing city.

PUTS EDITOR HARVEY IN "ANANIAS CLUB"

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—With four short and ugly words today Col. Roosevelt put Geo. McClellan Harvey, of the North American Review, in the "Ananias club." In an article by Harvey in the current issue of the North American Review, published today, entitled "Is Roosevelt an asset or a liability?", the following statement appears: "But recently Roosevelt, the man declared that if a national election were to be held next November he undoubtedly would be the republican candidate and win." Col. Roosevelt read the passage and his comment was a single remark: "It's a simple lie."

MISS NORDRUM BACK FROM MINNEAPOLIS

Miss Agot Nordrum, 1322 Market street, who it was alleged left home without the knowledge of her family and was later found at Minneapolis, has returned to her home. The girl stated that she had made a visit and intended to return to this city at the end of the week which she did. To The Tribune she said: "I had no intention of becoming a chorus girl or securing a place to work. I would not have gone but for my friend and when I did go it was only for a visit for the week. I have no reason to leave home as my father is kind to me and I have everything I wish for."

TWO RUBBISH FIRES CALL OUT FIREMEN

The fire department was called to the rear of Captain W. A. Thompson's residence, corner of West avenue and Main streets, Sunday afternoon, where a pile of rubbish was afire. The blaze was extinguished without damage. Saturday night the fire department was called to the wholesale fruit establishment of the J. I. Lamb company on North Front street, where a pile of rubbish was afire. It is thought the fire was started by someone, who accidentally dropped a match.

HOW TO MAKE A DAINTY COMPLEXION BEAUTIFIER

"Powders, paints and cosmetics—face lotions, 'washes,' and the like—a myriad of creams—each and all have their buyers, spending annually more dollars than I can count in the search for just the right thing to make their faces most attractive," says Marion Harlow in "The Quest for Beauty." "In the thoughtless rush to experiment with the new and strange, the simple and inexpensive articles of known and tried merit are often passed by. Yet, when all is said, plain marol is as satisfactory a complexion beautifier as one can find. "It softens, smooths and whitens the skin; prevents roughness and dryness; gives an elusive and charming attractiveness produced by no paint, powder or lotion I know, and is so dainty and delicate its use cannot be detected. "Your druggist will sell you the marol in the original 2 oz. package. Get two ounces and put it in a pint bottle, fill the bottle full of warm water, shake well, let stand overnight, and you have a complexion beautifier that you never again will be without."

With all due respect to the Old Flag, the people under it are robbed a good deal in its name.

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

The Rain

"It isn't raining rain to me
"It's raining violets."
—Robert Loveman.
It isn't raining rain to me—
It's raining garden-sass;
It's raining carrots, beans and peas,
And O it's raining grass—
And when the grass begins to grow
I must arise at dawn
And push the mower to and fro
Upon the wistful lawn.

It isn't raining rain to me—
It's raining anoleworms,
With many an acrobatic stunt
Of twists and crawls and squirms
O, anoleworms are funny things,
Yet wonderfully wise—
Lest they should see improper sights
They never bring their eyes.

It isn't raining rain to me—
It's raining corn for booze,
And fussy snakes with yellow ears
To hide in wobbling shoes;
It's raining merry high-ball rye,
It's raining cotton-gin,
And tier on tier of lager beer
To wrap our trouble in.

It isn't raining rain to me—
It's raining pumpkin-pies,
Although it never rains enough
Nor rains them the right size;
I always fear the rain will stop
And that the clouds will break;
It's raining pumpkin-pies for me,
And also stumick-ache.
—St. Paul Dispatch.

The Sly Professor

A certain professor told a story of an old woman he once had as housekeeper, to whom he made a sporting offer.

"Janet," he said to her one day, "the very next planet I discover I will make you a present of a sovereign." "You are very kind, sir," she replied, "and I am sure I hope you will soon discover one." Several months went by and no planets were discovered. "The fact of the matter is, my'am," confided the old woman to the professor's wife, "I do think the professor goes out at night and discovers planets on the sly."—Tit-Bits.

Saccharine Femininity

Old Sport (who has just related a somewhat risqué yarn)—Yes, my dear Mrs. Youngman Fair, I usually call a spade a spade! His Fair Auditor (significantly)—And I usually know an old rake when I see one!—The Widow.

Saved from the Wreck

The shades of night had fallen. All was quiet. The whole street slept, when, suddenly upon the knocker of the cyclemaker's door there came a virulent attack. Bill Spikes turned over sleepily. "What's wrong?" he bawled out. "You let out a machine to Bobbie Adams this afternoon?" piped a childish treble. "Well," growled Spokes, "I'm not going to take it back this time. I'll have her keep it till mornin', an' pay by the hour!" "I know that," came the voice again. "But Bobbie's ad a bit of a spill through runnin' inter a moty car, an' I don't want ter pay for the 'ire of more'n 'e can 'elp; so I've brought back all we've found of the machine so far!" In his pajamas, and a tearing rage, Spokes rushed downstairs. "Where's the part?" he stormed. "Ere!" responded the late caller, holding out his hand, "I've brought the 'e can!"—Answers.

Leaving a Man Helpless

"That statement made me think," said a veteran newspaperman to the Cincinnati Times-Star, "of the celebrated row between President Cleveland's colored man and Secretary Hoke Smith's colored man. The two were exercising their masters' horses out on a country road, and got into a dispute to what is the best thing in the world. Finally they made a bet of a dollar on it. "Well, what is de bes' thing in the world?" asked Cleveland's man. "Roas' possum and sweet 'taters," said Hoke Smith's man. "Whoa," says Cleveland's man, dragging at the bridle. He jumped to the ground, seized Hoke Smith's man by the leg and dragged him to the dust. "Take that," says he, lamming him on the neck. "You misible black rascal! Yo ain't leave me nuffin' to guess at."

Thought It Was Recent

Sir Ernest Shackleton at the luncheon in his honor given by the pilgrims in New York, said of a piece of geographical ignorance: "It was incredible. It reminds me of a little waiting maid: "As she brought me my tea and toast and bloater one morning I said to her: "What a rainy morning, Mary! It's almost like the flood." "The flood, sir?" said the little maid. She looked at me with a puzzled smile. "Yes," said I. "The flood—Noah, you know—the ark—Mount Ararat." "She shook her head and murmured apologetically: "I ain't had no time to read the papers lately, sir."—New York Tribune.

The Soft Answer

City Boarder (hotly)—That young ass, Collins, said that I didn't know enough to come in when it rained! Old Farmer (thoughtfully)—Did you answer him? City Boarder—You bet I did! I told him he was a liar! Old Farmer—Well, then you both come pretty close to bein' right.—The Widow.

Herd on Hall

Apologies of Hall Caine's recent lawsuit, a New York playwright said: "Hall Caine is always talking about his health, his ruined nerves, his insomnia, and so forth. He is as proud of his invalidism as Sandow is of his muscles. "The last time I saw Hall Caine was in his bedroom in the Hotel Walton, in Philadelphia. The little thin man, with his domelike forehead and weak, whiskery whiskers, looked more like Shakespeare than ever. "Mr. Hall Caine," I said, "I hope you're well." "Well," he snarled, "I'm far from well. I haven't slept, sir, for two weeks." "Then," said I, "you're ever so much better, for the last time I saw you you hadn't slept for a month."—New York Tribune.

The GIRL FROM HIS TOWN

MARIE VAN VORST

"Why don't you talk to me?" she asked softly. "You know, you would rather talk to me than the others."

"Yes," he said frankly, "they make me nervous."

"No," he said, "I learn a lot every time we are together."

"Learn?" she repeated, not particularly flattered by this. "What sort of things?"

"Oh, about the whole business," he returned vaguely. "You know what I mean."

"Then," she said with a slight laugh, "you mean to say you talk with me for educational purposes? What a beastly bore!"

Dan did not contradict her. She was by no means Eve to him, nor was he the raw recruit his simplicity might give one to think. He had had his temptations and his way out of them was an easy one; for he was very slow to stir, and back of all was his ideal. The reality and power of this ideal Dan knew best at moments like these. But the Duchess of Breakwater was the most lovely woman—the most dangerous woman that had come his way. He liked her—Dan was well on the way to love.

The two were alone in the big dark room. At their side the small table, from which they had taken their tea together, stood with its empty cups and its silver. Without, the day was cold and windy, and the sunset threw along the panes a red reflection. The light fell on the Duchess of Breakwater, something like a veil—a crimson veil slipped over her face and breast. She leaned toward Dan, and between them there was no more barrier than the western light. He felt his pulses beat and a tide rising within him. She was a delicious emanation, fragrant and near, and as he might have gathered a cluster of flowers, so in the next second he would have taken her in his arms, but from the other room just then Lady Galorey, at the piano, played a snatch from Mandalay, striking at once into the tune. The sound came suddenly, told them quickly some one was near, and the Duchess of Breakwater involuntarily moved back, and so knocked the small tray, jostled it, and it fell clattering to the floor.

CHAPTER III.

The Blairtown Solist.

Blairtown had a population of some eight thousand. There was a Presbyterian church to which Dan and his father went regularly, sitting in the bare pew when the winter's storms beat and rattled on the panes, or in the summer sunshine, when the flies thronged the window casings, when the smell of the pews and the panama fans and the hymn-books came strong to them through the heat.

One day there was a missionary sermon, and for the first time in its history a girl sang a solo in the First Presbyterian Church. Dan Blair heard it, looked up, and it made a mark in his life. A girl in a white dress trimmed with blue gentians, white cotton gloves, and golden hair, was the soloist. He knew her, that is, he had a nodding acquaintance with her. It was the girl at the drug store who sold soda-water, and he had asked her some hundreds of times for a "vanilla or a chocolate," but it wasn't this vulgar memory that made the little boy list-n. It was the girl's voice. Standing back of the yellow-painted rail, above the minister's pulpit, above the flies, the red pews and the panama fans, she sang, and she sang into Dan Blair's soul. To speak more truly, she made him a soul in that moment. She awakened the boy; his collar felt tight, his cheeks grew hot. He felt his new boots, too, hard and heavy. She made him want to cry. These were the physical sensations—the material part of the awakening. The rest went on deeply inside of Dan. She broke his heart; then she healed it. She made him want to cry like a girl; then she wiped his tears.

The little boy settled back and grew more comfortable and listened, and what she sang was, "From Greenland's icy mountains, From India's coral strands—"

Before the hymn reached its end he was a calm boy again, and the hymn took up its pictures and became like an illustrated book of travels, and he wanted to see those pea-green peaks of Greenland, to float upon the icebergs to them, and see the dawn break on the polar seas as the explorers do. He should find the North Pole some day! Then he wanted to go to an African jungle, where the tiger, "tiger shining bright," should flash his stripes before his eyes! Dan would gather wreaths of coral from the strands and give them to the girl with the yellow hair! When he and his father came out together from the church, Dan chose the street that passed the soda-fountain drug store and peeped in. It was dark and cool, and behind the counter the drug clerk mixed the summer drinks; and the drug clerk mixed them from that time ever afterward—for the girl with the yellow hair never showed up in Blairtown again. She went away!

CHAPTER IV.

In the Coral Room.

"Mandalay" had run at the Gaiety the season before and again opened the autumn season. Light and charming, thoroughly musical, it had toured successfully through Europe, but London was its home, and its great popularity was chiefly owing to the girl who had starred in it—Lotty Lane. Her face was on every post-card, hand-bill, cosmetic box,

Health and Beauty Talks

BY MRS. MAE MARTIN

A. W. A.: You say you can find nothing that will protect tender skin from the sun. Try this and I know you will not suffer from sunburn, tan or freckles: Dissolve four ounces of spumax in one-half pint of hot water and add two teaspoonfuls of glycerine. Apply this, with the palm of the hand, to the face, neck and forearms in the morning and you will find it will not rub off or show like powder. It is a true complexion beautifier, for it restores and preserves the soft and rosy color of youth. This inexpensive lotion is especially fine for those who have dark, sallow or oily skin.

S. L. J.: Very few women are blessed with eyes that are naturally "beaming and radiant." Most probably those dazzling eyes you envy are the result of using a tonic to strengthen and brighten the eyes. Get from your druggist one ounce of crystals and dissolve it in a pint of water and you will have a perfect home-made eye tonic. One or two drops in each eye will relieve inflammation, dullness, redness and soreness. It will not smart or burn. Many persons with weak eyesight find they can dispense with eyeglasses after using this tonic daily a month or two.

G. L. M.: "Shampoo" is a word of Hindoo origin and means "to lather, rub and wash the head." When using cantrox for shampooing, dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water; pour on the head a little at a time and rub well—just as you would with an ordinary shampoo; then rinse the hair and scalp thoroughly with warm water. Cantrox makes an abundance of lather and will remove that fine scurf of which you complain, for it is nothing more nor less than dandruff. Don't use soap when shampooing, for it leaves the scalp hot and hard and causes streaks in the hair when drying. When you use cantrox the hair dries quickly and is soft, bright, fluffy and not streaky.

Osiris: Have you tried to preserve your youthful looks? Is your husband correct when he says you do not look as young as you should? If you want to keep your skin clear, fresh and velvety, you must take care of it. Use almozoin cream jelly both as a massage and face cream and your complexion will be fine and free from blemish. Get from your druggist one ounce of almozoin, dissolve it in one-half pint of cold water; add two teaspoonfuls of glycerine; stir well and let stand overnight. Then you have a cream that contains no oils or fats to make hair grow or cause the skin to become dark and greasy looking. As a treatment for blackheads it is effective and at the same time "mild as milk," for it completely removes the pore-dirt and decreases the size of the pores, so that the blackheads will not return. Massaging with and even popular drinks were named for her.

The night of the Osdone box party was the reopening of Mandalay, and the curtain went up after the overture to an outburst of applause. Dan Blair had never "crossed the pond" before this memorable visit, when he had gone straight out to Osdone Park, London theaters and London itself, indeed, were unplored by him. He had seen what there was to be seen of the opera bouffe in his own country, but the brilliant, perfect performance of a company at the London Gaiety he had yet to enjoy.

The opening scene of Mandalay is oriental; the burst of music and the tinkling of the silvery temple bells and the effect of an extremely blue sea, made Dan "sit up," as he put it. The theatrical picture was so perfect that he lifted his head, pushed his chair back to enjoy. He was thus close to the duchess. With invigorating young enthusiasm the boy drew in his breath and waited to be amused and to hear. The tunes he already knew before the orchestra began to charm his ear.

On landing at Plymouth Dan had been keen to feel that he was really stepping into the world, and at Osdone Park he had been daily, hourly "seeing life." The youngest of the household, his youth nevertheless was not taken into consideration by any of them. No one had treated him like a junior. He had gone neck to neck with their pace as far as he liked, furnished them fresh amusement, and been their diversion. In all his rare unspoiled youth, Blair had been suddenly dropped down in an effete set that had whirled about him, and one by one out of the inner circle had called him to join them; and one by one with all of them Dan had whirled.

TEAM DRAGS HIM OVER PAVEMENT

August Praly's Wagon Is Struck by Car and the Horses Run Away; Driver Is Bruised

August Praly, a farmer residing in the town of Campbell, was painfully bruised this morning as the result of a runaway of his team, which started when a street car struck his wagon in Caledonia street, between Wall and Windsor streets. The driver hung to the reins gamely and succeeded in stopping the frightened animals before they could demolish anything.

Mr. Praly was coming to the city about 7 this morning with farm produce when the accident happened. The street car struck the rear of the wagon, damaging it but slightly but striking with enough force to throw the driver from his seat. The horses started on a wild dash down the street with the man hanging to the reins. Before they had gone far, however, he succeeded in tangling the reins in the wheel in such a manner as to stop the animals. Mr. Praly was not seriously injured, although he lost some skin in being dragged over the brick pavement.

GETS 6 LAWYERS TO DEFEND HIM

If Legal Talent Counts for Anything, Doctor Lahn Proposes to Win Liberty

Believing that safety lies in numbers, Dr. Charles Lahn, charged with assault and battery by Emma Fungar, has secured six attorneys to defend him when his case comes to trial Thursday afternoon.

The complaint against Lahn is only a portion of the fight into which the Higgins family has become involved and which originated when the Higgins were set out in the street at Eighth and State streets.

Old man Higgins, father of Emma Fungar, claims that Lahn's attentions to his daughter have been obnoxious and charges Lahn with assault and battery.

This morning Lahn spent his time "signing up" attorneys to defend him and when he goes into court on Thursday it will be with an array of legal talent calculated to take the prosecution, court and everyone connected with the case, literally off their feet.

WHAT LA FOLLETTE HAS ACCOMPLISHED

MADISON, Wis., Aug. 2.—What La Follette Accomplished:

1. He secured a law prohibiting the railroad companies from contributing to campaign funds.

2. He brought suit against railroad companies for making fraudulent returns of earnings and recovered $919,481 back taxes.

3. He secured the abolition of the railroad pass which for many years was used as a bribe to prevent the enactment of desired railroad legislation.

4. He secured the enactment of the primary law which prevents wealthy corporations from dictating the selection of candidates for important offices.

5. He secured the abolishment of rebates and discriminations in freight rates which aided favored shippers and communities to the disadvantage of other shippers and other communities.

6. He secured the passage of the ad valorem tax law under which railroads are taxed as other property is taxed and which has increased the amount of taxes paid by the railroads nearly two million dollars a year.

7. He secured the passage of the railroad rate law and the appointment of a rate commission which has reduced and equalized freight and passenger rates saving over two million dollars annually to the people of the state.

8. In the United States Senate he put a stop to the fraudulent mail weighing by which railroad and steamship companies were overpaid seven million dollars annually.

9. He prevented the railroads and other land-grabbing corporations from acquiring possession of oil and mineral lands in Oklahoma, estimated to be worth $500,000,000.

In accomplishing these results in Wisconsin he was assisted by Tom Morris, J. A. Frear, A. H. Dahl, F. T. Tucker and H. L. Ekern, who are now candidates for lieutenant governor, secretary of state, treasurer, attorney general and commissioner of insurance respectively. Vote for them at the primary on September 6, and choose your candidate for governor from among these three loyal, progressive candidates: W. M. Lewis, F. E. McGovern, John Strange.

In his work in Congress Senator La Follette was ably assisted and supported by Congressmen Cary, Cooper, Lenroot, Morse and Nelson. All of these except Mr. Lenroot are being opposed by stalwarts who are assisted by the national congressional committee which receives its campaign funds from tariff protested interests, railroad corporations in other states and land grabbers like the Morgan-Guggenheim syndicate which tried to loot Alaska.

Not content with the reputation of owning the best and biggest circus in the world, the Ringlings have kept on growing and bettering. It is their policy to grow and to improve. They cannot help it. They are still young men and not at all content to rest on past glories. Perfection is their aim. They have practically attained it.

The foreign agents of the show are an unusually energetic and progressive set of men. They have stripped Europe and Asia of all its best talent for this year's tour of America. And fate was kind to them. Last winter was an unusually productive season in Europe in the way of novelties. They were all secured. The cost of this importation of talent

WAR DEPT. WILL BOUY BLACK RIVER

Capt. Thompson Gets Authority from Headquarters to Go Ahead with the Work

BOAT CLUB PLEA GRANTED

Local U. S. Engineer Is Ready to Mark Channel as Soon as Channel Returns

Following application made in June to the secretary of war by the secretary of the La Crosse Motorboat club, to have the navigable channel of Black river, between the mouth and Onalaska, Wis., marked with proper buoys, Capt. W. A. Thompson, U. S. engineer in charge of the river improvement work in this section today received authority from the engineering department to go ahead with the work.

"There is no channel in Black river at present," says Capt. Thompson, "owing to the low water, but as soon as the water rises and there is again a navigable channel, it will be properly marked."

A couple of years ago the government cleared the channel of Black as far as Onalaska, on petition of residents of that city, and buoys and sign boards were placed designating the course for the entire distance.

Soon after the work was done the channel was taken over by the first big boat to dock in that city for years. Since that time the buoys and markings have been either stolen or have drifted away. As the channel was narrow and difficult to follow, and the rest of the river is full of old deadheads and obstructions, navigation became practically impossible when the markings were removed, so that, although the government had expended a considerable sum in dredging and clearing out the channel even the smaller boats did not dare try to get to Onalaska. Members of the Motorboat club and rivermen generally were anxious that the benefit of the cleared channel be made usable, so the request to the secretary of war was made through the Motorboat club, while Capt. Thompson used his friendly influence to have the channel marked a second time. The authorization received today to proceed with the work is the result, and will be received with gratitude by the scores of motor boat owners and hundreds of others interested in the river.

The letter authorizing the work is from C. W. Durham, assistant engineer at Rock Island and says in part:

"I would say that after having gone the rounds of several departments, the matter has come back today approved by the engineer department. You are authorized to do the work at your convenience. By direction of Major Charles Keller."

Major Keller is the official in charge of all improvement work on the upper Mississippi, who recently succeeded Major Richie, who was transferred to Detroit.

It is expected that Capt. Thompson will authorize his crew to proceed with the work as soon as the water rises enough to make the work possible.

ROOSEVELT SEEKS LABOR CONDITIONS

Ex-President Starts Tour Today to Get Into Close Touch with Important Element of Workers

DELAWARE, Water Gap, Pa., Aug. 2.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt, accompanied by Lawrence Abbott, president of the Outlook company, are registered at Water Gap house here for a brief stay.

Roosevelt plans to remain in this section of the state for several days studying labor conditions for a series of articles for the Outlook.

Press Agent Riles Teddy

With curtains down the two came into Scranton at 7:30 a. m. No sooner had they struck the main street than a mighty chorus of cheers arose. A surging mob gathered around the car.

Demands for a speech from the colonel brought the ex-president's head from behind the curtains, and he responded with a quiet greeting.

By the time he had reached the hotel the streets were black with people and all intent on grasping his hand. Roosevelt finally forced his way through the corridors of the hotel to his suite of rooms on the second floor, which happens to be the bridal chamber.

Safe in his room, the former president gathered about him a few reporters.

"When I learned yesterday that an auto concern in New York had tipped off all the newspapers to my itinerary on this trip, I told the auto to concern that never would I use their car again, and I immediately made arrangements for another auto," he said.

The colonel said that the trip was no further his knowledge of the social life of the workers in factories. His attention had been attracted by the articles that appeared several months ago in one of the leading magazines, on factory life in and around Scranton.

Mitchell to Accompany Him

Roosevelt made a short address in appreciation of his welcome. John Mitchell will accompany Roosevelt tomorrow on his trip to Wilkesbarre where he will carry on a further research into the social conditions of the miners.

Roosevelt spent the major part of the afternoon with Prof. Cummings superintendent of schools at Olyphant, a suburb in a thorough investigation of the houses and sanitary conditions.

PYTHIANS PLAN TO OUTDO MASONS

Will Extend the Order to All Civilized Parts of the World if the New Plan Goes

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 2.—The ritual of the Order of Knights of Pythias is to be translated into German and the order extended to the whole civilized world, to be as great as Masonic societies, if the plan outlined by supreme chancellor Henry Parrish Brown of Texas, today is carried out.

The 10,000 visiting knights were addressed by Mayor Seidel this morning. The mayor said he believed they would be persuaded by this time that "socialists have not horns." The enthusiasm of the assembly assured the mayor who is a knight, that they were fully persuaded.

The supreme lodge went into session this morning, Supreme Chancellor Browne presiding. The principle matters before the supreme lodge are as to the advisability of new rules regarding suspension and re-instatement; revision of the ritual; the translation of the ritual into foreign languages; abolition of permanent password, and return to semi-annual password.

Ohio has the largest delegation of any state represented and boasts the largest brigade in the world. The lodge will be in session all week.

HE CALLS WORK OF DEW "ROTTEN"

New York's "Best Chief" Says Detective who Chased Crippen Is a "Mugg"

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—There would be several changes in Scotland Yard if "Big Bill" Devery, the "best police chief New York ever had" were running things in that "joint," according to "Bill."

"Yes, I think the credit goes to Kendall," said the ex-chief to a United Press representative in his two-by-four real estate office at Far Rockaway today. "If I had my way I'd fire Dew for the 'good of the service,' put this here Kendall in charge of the joint and shake a few more of these fellows responsible for Doc Crippen's getaway."

"You didn't have wireless in your day, chief, how did you land criminals making a run for Europe?" he was asked.

Didn't Need Wireless

"We didn't need wireless. When we suspected a man of homicide or a man had a disappearance to explain, we put him in the coop, see! That's the place for a suspect until he is 'cleared' and that's where they should have put Crippen. This here gentleman business don't come in to homicide cases. Dew does the polite thing with Crippen and Crippen beats it."

"Dew don't deserve any credit at all. New York cops could have gone to Father Point and arrested Crippen after the Captain of the Montrose had identified him, and sent a wireless to come on and take his man."

Scotland Yard "Rotten"

"No, we didn't need wireless and we don't need it now. It's a wonderful thing, in aiding in the capture of criminals—the long arm of the wireless, you know—but if you plant your man and nail him first, you don't have to go spending thousands of dollars making up for a blunder. Scotland Yard can't hold a candle to New York's detective bureau. We use American methods, and those fellows bungle pretty nearly everything. They hold themselves up as the class of Europe in the sleuth line, but they're rotten."

"What is your opinion of the police of Antwerp who let Crippen get aboard the Montrose together with a girl, clumsily disguised as a boy?"

For a moment "Big Bill" was silent. Then he turned slowly in his swivel chair, surveyed the interviewer from head to foot and broke into a broad smile.

Antwerp Rotten, too

"Rotten! Absolutely rotten! They are what I would call a lot of muggs. They know nothing of police work. If it's possible, they're worse than Scotland Yard."

"Say, young man, between you and me, if I was holding down the boss' chair in Scotland Yard I'd tell Dew to get a job driving a truck so quick he'd—Well, never mind, Kendall would be in charge and the ladies of this hero music hall thing, what led the cops onto the job would be on the police commission."

"Anyway," concluded the "best chief" "there wouldn't be no Dews in the department, nor none of these 'gentlemen detectives' and there wouldn't be no police dogs either. Understand I'm not knocking."

(By John E. Wilkie, Chief of the United States Secret Service.—Written for the United Press.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 2.—In common with everybody else, I have followed the Crippen case with interest, and the denouement was quite in harmony dramatically with the earlier incidents.

The successful employment of the wireless was a beautiful demonstration of what may be accomplished in the pursuit of a criminal and its employment was a concrete illustration of the fact that under modern conditions and with the resources of science at their command, officers of the law have made it well nigh impossible for fugitives to elude capture. A phase of the situation upon which the attention of prosecuting officers will be centered later, the identification of the victim and the proof that a crime actually has been committed.

I have noticed that my friend, Superintendent Forest, one of the ablest officers in the world, who is at the head of the Scotland Yard, is confident that the government has an impregnable, circumstantial case against Crippen, and I have a very high regard for the opinion of this conservative officer.

If they should succeed in convicting Crippen on all the circumstances it will reflect their highest credit upon Scotland Yard and add to the many laurels won by this famous detective organization.

Foresees Airship Pursuit

CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—Commenting on the world wide chase and capture of Dr. Crippen, Assistant Chief of Police Schuetzler said today that the world from the criminal standpoint, is growing smaller each day.

"The present day criminal," said Schuetzler, "has but little chance of escape. He may get away for a time and go to foreign countries but eventually he is recognized and returned to justice. For many years the criminal who once succeeded in getting aboard a vessel was quite immune but the wireless has changed all that and today he is practically stepping into prison the moment he boards a ship."

"The whole world may know of his every movement but the interested party is in the dark. I think that the day is not far distant when a criminal who has been located by wireless aboard a steamer will be overtaken and arrested by an officer pursuing in a flying machine."

HARMON TO FORCE STRIKE SETTLEMENT

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 2.—Determined to bring about a settlement of the street car strike, Gov. Harmon today prepared to force the peace issue.

State Labor Commissioner Wirmel and Joseph Bishop, secretary of the state board of arbitration, have succeeded in getting the executive committee of the union to declare its peace proposition. The proposal demands 25 cents an hour for the first year of service, and 27 cents an hour thereafter, absolute recognition of the union and a clause providing for arbitration of future difficulties by a board of three disinterested citizens.

The company and the union are a long way apart.

UMPIRE AGUR NOW IN CENTRAL LEAGUE

Umpire Frank Agur, who received his dismissal in the Minny league because of complaint of incompetency by many of the clubs around the circuit is now working in the Central league, which by the way is class B baseball while the local circuit is only class D. It seems that Agur's dismissal was the best thing that could have happened for him at any rate as the new position carries with it an increase of about $75 in salary. He worked his first game Sunday and "got away in great shape."

RED WING DEFEATS ROCHESTER, 6 TO 1

President Elliott this afternoon received the official report of the game played by the Red Wing and the Rochester clubs at Zumbrota, Minn., yesterday. The score was 6 to 1 in favor of Red Wing. Although it was to have been an exhibition game originally, the plan was changed at the last moment and it was decided to play a postponed contest. An umpire and a scorer were provided by President Elliott.

Weidell was the whole show in the game, allowing but two hits, and the Red Wings were deeply humiliated as the crowd numbered about 2,000 people, many of whom were from the medical city. The score:

Red Wing 6 8 1
Rochester 1 2 3
Batteries—Weidell and Helling; Chase and Fisher.

PORTER CHARLTON MAY BE FREED

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—The forty days allowed the Italian government under its treaty with the United States to make formal demand for the custody of Porter Charlton, held in the Jersey City jail for the murder of his wife, Mrs. Mary Scott Chase, Charlton, at Moltrasio on Lake Como, expired at midnight.

No such request has been received by the officials of the state department at Washington and it is believed that none will be.

The interest of the United States government in the case dies with the expiration of the forty days and the conditions confronting the officials of confessed murderer being held without legal process. Charlton may be released.

Fifty Members of Crew in Sensational Escapes Off the Coast of St. Paul Island

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 2.—The revenue cutter Perry with fifty officers and men on board, struck on a reef off Tonki Point, St. Paul Island, in the Behring Sea, on July 26, and is a complete loss, according to a cable message received at the treasury department today.

After a thrilling experience in which they were in great peril all the men reached shore. The cutter was engaged in patrolling the sealing islands. The accident was due to a heavy fog and the swift current.

Tonki Point is one of the most dangerous places in the northern waters. A reef extends far out into the sea and a swift current constantly prevails. The point is nearly always foggy, and at times navigation becomes almost impossible.

The Perry was 161 feet long and had been in service in the Pacific since 1893. She was the smallest vessel in the patrol fleet.

Captain Haak was in command.

PARIS, Aug. 2.—Electrical surgery by which arms and legs will be painlessly amputated without recourse to knife or saw, is a development of the immediate future, according to an announcement today by Prof. D'Arsonval, one of the medical authorities of Paris.

Dr. Doyen recently showed before the Academy of Medicine the effect of an electrical current upon cancers and how a cure might be effected in this way. Prof. D'Arsonval, following up these experiments, now declares he has treated the limbs of dogs with frequent electric currents, literally cooking the limbs so that they dropped off of their own accord. The animals so treated, he says, did not manifest the slightest traces of suffering. When the limbs dropped off, a healthy scar remained.

Crippen has been ill for months but since the first accusation against his son, he has failed rapidly.

HOT-WEATHER DIARRHEA

In the summer people of all ages are very subject to "running of the bowels." Germs get into the food or water, find their way into the intestines and keep irritating them so that there is a constant desire to have movement. It is very weakening, destroys appetite, disturbs sleep and produces an itchy feeling that many suppose to be piles. There are many "quick cures" for this aggravated form of dysentery but they usually contain a narcotic, and that is dangerous. Others try salts and laxative waters, but they have no permanent effects. It takes a remedy with ingredients such as are combined in Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin to drive out the trouble-causing germs, to clean out the intestines, to strengthen the stomach and enliven the liver. Ordinary remedies cannot do this, but it is a well known fact that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin does do it. Thousands use it every summer for this very purpose. Go to your druggist today and buy a 50 cent or $1.00 bottle and see what it will do for you. It is guaranteed to do what we claim or money refunded. It has enabled thousands of families to cure themselves of simple ailments. If you have never tried it send your address for a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE to FOREIGN MARKETS New York Stocks NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—Although concessions were in order at the opening of the stock market today a steadier tone developed after 15 minutes of trading and some stocks made fractional rallies.

11 a. m.—At the end of the first hour the market was at about the range prevailing at the close of yesterday, very few stocks showing more than a slight fractional change.

Government bonds unchanged; others dull.

Noon.—During the late forenoon the market held firm with prices generally ruling above yesterday's closing. The publication of the cotton crop report was used by the bears for an attack on stocks and in a few minutes prices were forced down, some stocks declining as much as a point.

2 p. m.—Urgent covering of the shorts marked the trade in the afternoon, forcing prices up sharply and making the tone decidedly strong.

The stock market closed strong.

Grain Letter. CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—All grain traders had bearish news this morning. During the night good rains fell over Kansas and other portions of the southwest. Of course this made a break in coarse grain certain and started in to sell all months at the opening. Foreign statistics were bearish. The Illinois Grain Dealers gave out a very bearish report, saying more wheat raised north of Vandalia than in entire state last year. The break in prices during the morning was 3-4 to 1 cent September sold 102 1-2 and off to 101 3-4. December sold 104 1-8 to 103 5-8. May weakened to 107 1-2, showing the least weakness.

Corn traders had their bullish ideas dispelled this morning very quickly when they looked at the weather map and saw nearly two inches of rain at Kansas City, good rainfall at Hutchinson, Topeka and many other points in Kansas, fairly good rains at Nebraska points and the whole western corn belt practically drenched. From 63 7-8 at close yesterday, September opened 63 1-8 to 62 3-4 and broke to 62 1-4. December sold off to 60 1-8 cents, 1 1-2 cents under close yesterday. May had a similar break, early trades all the way from 62 3-8 cents to 61 3-4 cents.

Oats had a weak undertone sympathizing with the lower wheat and corn markets. The harvest is progressing rapidly and under favorable conditions. All indications point to a bumper yield. September oats opened at 37 1-8 to 36 7-8, sold to 36 3-4, back to 36 3-4 to 36 7-8 cents. December opened at 38 3-8 to 38 1-8, sold to 37 7-8 to 38; back to 38 cents.

Provisions opened sharply higher. The monthly stocks of provisions made a bullish showing.

Close.—All options closed lower. Sept. wheat 1 1/4, Dec., 5-8, and May 3/4 lower. Sept. corn 3/4, Dec. 5-8, and May 1/4 lower. Sept. oats 1-2, Dec. 1/4 lower. May same as opening price. Provisions generally steady with little change.

NEW PATROLMAN FIGHTS PRISONER Officer Louis Jahnke Experiences Some of the Hardships of Being a Policeman

Patrolman Louis Jahnke, who was recently appointed on the police force, had his first fight with a prisoner last night when he arrested Joe Morrissey and attempted to take him to the central police station. Morrissey, who had been working in one of the railroad camps east of here, came to the city last evening and, it is alleged, began to get drunk. He first created a disturbance at the Milwaukee depot where the company officer put him out. He then went to Henry Reget's saloon, where, it is said, he again got into trouble and was put out. Later he was creating a disturbance at the Lyric theater and it was there that Patrolman Jahnke placed him under arrest. All the way to the station Morrissey fought the officer, but the latter succeeded in getting him to the station after an exciting time. Last night the prisoner gave his name as Joe Morrisson but this morning he changed it to Joe Morrissey. He will be taken into police court this afternoon.

KILLIAN FIRST TO HIT "BULL" SIGN Manager Joe Killian of the Winona club is the first ball player in the Minny league to hit the Bull Durham cut out sign which is placed by that tobacco company on all the fields in the league. In the eighth inning of the Sunday game with Rochester he caught one of Barn- grover's twisters, sending it to the field, where it glanced off Kelley's mitt and hit the sign. The case has been submitted to the tobacco company and Joe will likely get the $50 which is offered for the deed.

ADJOURN FEDERAL COURT TO OCTOBER Judge A. L. Sanborn has announced that the United States court will be called in this city on Sept. 13, at which time adjournment will be taken until October. The judge will ask for the use of the circuit court room or the supervisors' room for the coming term, because of the torn up condition of the federal building.

SLOW PROGRESS ON POSTOFFICE The brick work on the addition to the postoffice has been delayed during the past week, owing to the scarcity of bricklayers. The contractors have been unable to obtain men here to carry on the work, and several will be brought here from Milwaukee. It is the intention to complete the outside work before snow flies, so the interior may be finished during the winter months.

TO RE-EXAMINE WM. NEUMEISTER Upon petitions from the attorneys of William Neumeister, that the examination conducted to determine the former's sanity was not thorough, Doctors Rowles and Sulter have been appointed to re-examine Neumeister. The examination will be held Friday afternoon.

FIREMEN AGAIN CALLED TO ISLAND Isle la Plume has again caused much trouble, fire company No. 3 having been at work today and yesterday in an effort to put out the fire which started from a spark. The firemen laid 2,200 feet of hose and worked all yesterday afternoon until midnight and this morning they again went to the scene to resume the work of fighting the fire in the "made ground."

Eggs, shelled, beaten up and preserved in hermetically sealed tins are being imported into Great Britain from Russia.

ARREST CHICAGO TRAMPS CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—The police here have arrested about 150 vagrants and more arrests are expected today. The sweep was made by the police in view of the coming Knight Templar convale.

There are about 1,000 men, it is said, who sleep in the parks at night, having no home. The parks will be raided.

Ambitious Youth. "Willie, what do you wish for most?" Willie (laying aside a lurid romance) —I just want a name that'll make people tremble like leaves in the wind.

TO RECORD FIGHT AS "LOST ON FOUL"
NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—Although James J. Jeffries was a thoroughly whipped man his friends simply cannot bear to see the letters "K. O." (knocked out) scored up against his name in the sporting records and they are trying to prove that what really belongs there is "L. F. (lost on foul)". Tex Rickard, the referee, declares Jeffries was knocked out; that it should appear so in the records, and that Jack Johnson should get the credit of a decisive victory.
Jeff's friends, however, insist that Jeffries has not literally lost out, but that the action of his seconds in entering the ring, lost him the fight on a foul. They point out that in the Corbett-Sharkey bout Con McVey entered the ring in the ninth round and Corbett lost on a foul. The same scoring was made in the George Dixon-Dave Sullivan bout because one of Sullivan's seconds entered the roped arena.
But despite the claims of Jeff's friends, the majority of the men who saw the fight say it was simply a case of "knock out" with Jeffries' seconds coming through the ropes in the hope they could make it appear on the records as lost on a foul. All bets made on a "knockout" were paid under Rickard's ruling.
